

The Library Lookout

Official newsletter of the Skowhegan Free Public Library

Welcome to 2026! When I was born, way back in the 1900s, I always thought that I would be zooming around in a flying car or giving orders to my robot butler, but unfortunately, that is not the case. The library was built in 1889 and I bet the very first Library Director would be in awe of all of the changes and advances at the library in the past 137 years. One thing that has stayed the same though is our belief that books and information are worth preserving and sharing with our community.

We just spent the last week of January doing inventory of the entire library collection. Over 24,000 items were scanned and accounted for. We do this to make sure our shelves are correct and materials and to identify and fix any discrepancies. We also were able to get in some staff training and programming planning for upcoming months while we were closed.

Jett paid the librarians a visit to help with inventory and provide a much needed morale boost

One of the exciting programs we chatted about in our meeting was the return of the Cabin Fever Craft Workshops. We know that winter in Maine is hard, so we want to encourage people to come out, socialize, and maybe even learn a new skill. (Or at the very least have fun trying!)

Our workshops will include:

- Diamond Art Bookmarks 2/17
- Flower Frogs 2/25
- Pressed Flower Lanterns 3/5
- Felt Cord organizers 3/12
- Beaded Plants 3/17
- Mini Embroidery 3/27
- Cork Trivets 4/2
- Kinusaiga 4/10

Library Updates

Emily Ecker, Children's Librarian

The new year so far has brought us a new Toniebox and seven new literary Tonies to pair with picture books. We also hosted local author, Megan Caudill, for a book talk to celebrate her newest YA release. During LEGO Club, we saw a lot of creative ways to build self-portraits!

In February, you'll see brackets displayed with books nominated by the staff for our upcoming March Book Madness program, so get a jump on reading any new-to-you titles before the voting period begins on March 2nd! On February 20th from 5-6pm, we're hosting a pajama storytime/stuffy sleepover where the stuffies will spend the weekend at the library and get up to all sorts of after-hours fun. Space is limited, so call the library early to claim a spot! LEGO Club will be on the 26th from 3:30-4:30pm and returns to regular scheduling on the last Thursday of the month unless otherwise posted. And, of course, the Doodles continue with a new theme.

News from Bree Bussell-Fitzgerald, Adult Services

Books & Brews is still going strong! We have some really cool themes and topics picked out for future reads, everything from Realistic Fiction and Coming of Age stories to Seasonal titles and Through the Decades. If you ever have a suggestion we'd love to hear it and incorporate it into the title rotation! I'm already starting to plan for programs this summer and if there's an author you'd like to see or a craft you'd like to do let me know and I'll see what I can do. I want to offer what folks want to do and see here at the library.

Interlibrary Loan deliveries have slowed down a bit due to circumstances beyond our control so wait times have been extended. Please keep that in mind if you're looking for titles we don't currently have. We'll do our best to get it for you in a timely manner but we definitely suggest ordering ahead of time so you don't run out of reading material!

News from Nikki Hathaway, Tech Services Librarian

We're still accepting donations for our food cupboard at the library; it continues to see frequent use, and I find myself refilling it multiple times per day. Some popular items seem to be: Pasta, shelf-stable milk, oil, canned meat and fish, soups, and breakfast items. Every bit helps!

Another library offering we're working on is a Library of Things. This allows you to borrow an item instead of purchasing it for a project, one-time use, or just to try before you buy. If you have an item you'd like to see or donate to the Library of Things, please let us know!

BooOOooks in the Basement is discussing 'People who Eat Darkness' on February 4th and should be getting copies of our March book on the February 10th delivery date.

Fundraising Updates

For Fundraising in February, we wanted to remind you of our online Bonfire store! We have a wide range of products available to suit any style (library polo anyone?). Scan the QR code below to browse our online store and maybe pick something up for that special someone AND benefit the library at the same time!

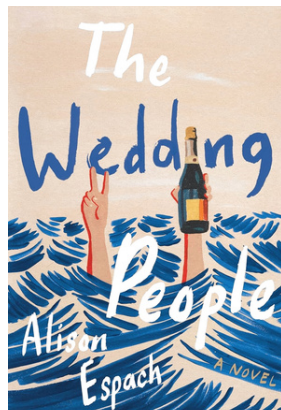

Another ongoing fundraiser we have is our partnership with Skowhegan Redemption. Located in the same shopping plaza as Label Shopper and Tractor Supply. Simply drop off your bottles/ cans and tell them you're donating them to the Skowhegan Free Public Library!

We also wanted to say a big thank you to everyone who supported the library through our Annual Appeal. Your donations make a huge difference in allowing us to offer quality programs, purchase new books, and staff the desks to provide you prompt service!
